

Blues Horror Brigade - Your Planet Belongs To Us

CD/DVD double album, limited edition, Pro Stata Records Warszawa Polska (PSR03)

January 2009: The extraterrestrial rock'n'roll group Blues Horror Brigade releases its first album on planet Earth. The CD contains hit songs such as "Tralfamadore-Jamaica", "Sex Change Polonaise", "666" and "Asteroïd Funk" (number one in the Top 10 of November 2008 at Swiss TV's music website "Musicnight myStage"). On the DVD you will find high quality versions of the cult documentary films „Aliens in Switzerland“, „Abducted By Aliens“, „They Are Here“ and all the video clips.

The Blues Horror Brigade made their first public appearance on Earth in the short story „Das irrthümliche Gerichtsurteil“ (The Mistaken Verdict) by Swiss cult science fiction author Daniel Hemmann.

The four band members Lee Horn-Ogix, Hells-Man E, Endo Plast and Sparklemaster One first met about two million years ago (Earth time) in an insane asylum somewhere on the outskirts of this galaxy. Their shrinks ordered them to join a therapeutical music group. A few thousand years later they were released. They were hopelessly incurable. Since then they have been drifting through universe playing their instruments wherever somebody dared to give them a chance.

After playing a few festivals on Tralfamadore, where they are extremely popular, they were told about the unspoiled nature on the planet of Earth. They immediately embarked on their ship, grabbed all the drugs they could get their hands on and started a journey. A few thousand years later they arrived... after a few months they started screaming: „Your Planet Belongs To Us“.

The CD was recorded at the famous Caliberclub Studio in Bern, Switzerland (or Sweden?). The sound engineer Adi Flück (Expander, Zeno Tornado & the Boney Google Brothers, filewile, Voodoo Rhythm Records, Everest Records, Mouthwatering Records,...) was fed with magic mushrooms from the planet of Ulubis. He turned into a zombie and recorded a twenty hour non-stop session by the Blues Horror Brigade. Meanwhile he became an addict and therefore he also produced, mixed and mastered the record.

UFO freaks filmed the Blues Horror Brigade performances and concerts (amongst others at the legendary Bad Bonn Kilbi 2008 and the destruction party of the Pimplitz Sauerkraut Factory). By using their „castration guns“ they forced their fans to give them the amateur videos. They coerced former Talibärn video journalist VJ Rhaps to produce several short films. The movies were first published on the internet, now you finally get the chance to watch them in a nice resolution.

There are rumours that all the people who purchase the album will be saved by the Blues Horror Brigade and their flying saucer, when the world is supposed to end on December 21, 2012.

Online-Shop: <http://blueshorrorbrigade.rhaps.com>

Website: <http://www.myspace.com/blueshorrorbrigade>

Contact management (Earth) Blues Horror Brigade:

Louis Schornoz, louis@nicstage.ch, phone +41 78 621 09 56

Michael Spahr, vj@rhaps.com, phone +41 76 561 44 91